

Mid-State BETAC

The Mid-State Bilingual/English as a
Second Language (ESL) Technical Assistance Center at OCM BOCES

The Mid-State BETAC is funded by the New York State Education Department, Office of Bilingual Education, to provide services to schools and districts with English language learners in the following BOCES regions: Broome-Tioga, Cayuga-Onondaga, Herkimer, Jefferson-Lewis, Madison-Oneida, Oneida-Herkimer-Madison, Onondaga-Cortland-Madison, Oswego, and Tompkins-Seneca-Tioga.

Mid-State BETAC offers professional development and technical assistance services at no cost to districts. Professional development services focus on research-based instructional practices that support academic achievement for English language learners. Technical assistance is provided for program design and planning, education laws and regulations, grant funding, parent involvement, translation and interpretation referrals, and materials and resources.

Mid-State BETAC maintains a regional resource library of materials for both English language learners and the educators who serve them. BETAC services can be customized to meet individual needs.
